

Farmers market "La Latière"..... bienvenue à la campagne!

Another market you should not miss if you are here in the spring or fall. Every year, on April 30 and May 1, and also the second weekend of September, there is a huge outdoor event held near Saint Aulaye (Dordogne), located approximately 15 minutes drive from Aubeterre. This traditional farmers market, better known as "La Latière", year after year attracts thousands of visitors and offers a very unique mix of products... from cows, horses, donkeys, poultry and puppies, to stands with regional products, clothing, jewelry, second hand stuff, fair attractions, and restaurants in the open air where visitors line up for a seat. A tour tip for lovers of an unmatched "à la campagne" experience!
