

Périgueux.... a city full of art and history

Approximately 45 minutes drive from Aubeterre is the city of Périgueux, the capital of the Périgord and also known as the "City of arts and history". A visit to Périgueux provides so much to see and to discover that you will take the town to your heart. The history of the city goes back over 2000 years and a visit to Périgueux is a true journey through time. The Périgueux of today offers a variety of different neighbourhoods, shopping streets and restaurants, all surrounded by ancient remains of walls that are reminiscent of the Romanesque period. The centre of the city is pedestrian only and allows you to stroll endlessly through the rich maze of streets and alleys of the romantic medieval city. In this city gastronomy plays a major role and a visit to Périgueux and its street markets offering local specialties will definitely draw you in. Make sure you don't miss the big weekly market on Wednesday or Saturday.
